EDUCATION

Doctor of Philosophy

Concentration: Parks and Conservation

Dissertation: "Crime and Greenspace: Extending the Analysis Across Cities"

Department of Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management

Clemson University (Clemson, SC), August 2019

Master of Landscape Architecture

Clemson University (Clemson, SC), May 2011

Bachelor of Science in Education

University of Georgia (Athens, GA), Aug 1995

Recreation Resource Management

CURRENT POSITION

Postdoctoral Research Scholar

Sep 2019 - present

North Carolina State University

Raleigh, NC

Department of Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management; Dr. J. Aaron Hipp and Dr. Myron Floyd

- Coordinate dissemination of research project outcomes
- Data analysis
- Co-instruct course on Analysis and Evaluation in PRTM
- Lead analysis and writing of research

TEACHING

North Carolina State University

Co-Instructor PRT380 Analysis and Evaluation in PRT Spring 2020
(3 credits, 72 students, undergraduate) Fall 2020
Spring 2021

Lecture/Lab course. Prepare and deliver lectures, manage teaching assistants, course administration, test preparation, and grading.

Rapid conversion of in-person course to complete online format in Spring 2020.

Fully online delivery in Fall 2020 & Spring 2021

Examination of the steps involved in analyzing and estimating the impact of recreation and parks services. Includes relevant issues and useful approaches for systematic analysis. Emphasis is placed on an understanding and development of various types of systematic evaluation designs. Activities leading to the analysis and development of performance reports to assess and improve managerial operational efficiency are covered.

Clemson University

Teaching Assistant PRTM3910/9000 Intro to Geographic Information Systems Spring 2016
(3 credits, ~15 students, undergraduate and graduate) Spring 2015

Lecture/Lab course. Assisted with lectures, labs, course administration, test preparation, and grading.

Introductory course on the fundamentals of GIS, including making maps, creating and editing geographic and tabular data, spatial modeling, geodatabase creation and management and use of cloud GIS technologies.

Teacher of Record PRTM2200 Conceptual Foundations of Recreation & Leisure Spring 2014
(3 credits, 22 students, undergraduate)

Lead instructor. Lecture preparation, course administration, grading, and student management.

Introduces students to the background, nature and scope of the profession, including its history, philosophy, and social and behavioral science underpinnings.

Teaching Assistant FOR4310/6310 Recreation Resource Planning in Forest Management Fall 2015
(2 credits, ~33 students, undergraduate and graduate) Fall 2014

Lecture/Lab. Assisted with labs, test preparation, and grading.

Analysis of forest recreation as a component of multiple-use forest management; techniques of planning; physical and biological effects on forest environments; and forest site, user, and facility management.

SKILLS & EXPERTISE

Subject area expertise: Geographic data science, Data management, Project management, Reproducible research, Data visualization, Research methods, Computational social science, Recreation planning

Statistical Software: R, SPSS, EQS

Design Software: Adobe Creative Suite (Illustrator, Photoshop, InDesign)

Spatial Science Software: ArcGIS (desktop, online, ArcPy, Survey123), QGIS, Google Earth Engine, GeoDa

Programming Languages: R, Python, Javascript

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

---

Data Manager May 2016 - Aug 2019
Clemson University Clemson, SC

- Organize and manage large scale data collection and analysis for National Science Foundation funded project
- Analyze, visualize, and communicate data analysis results to team members
- Create and maintain geospatial databases
- Transform and standardize complex and disparate data from county governments
- Program scripts and software tools to process and compile datasets
- Manage graduate assistants in qualitative coding of legal documents and data processing

Graduate Assistant Aug 2013 - May 2016
Clemson University, Department of Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Management Clemson, SC

- Coordinated teaching, logistics, and grading of Forest Recreation and GIS for Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Management
- Performed literature reviews (2) and statistical analyses for research projects (4)
- Assisted in preparation of peer-reviewed manuscripts (3)

Design Associate Aug 2011 - Aug 2013
Pearson Russell Landscape Architecture Denver, CO

- Prepared design graphics, maps and construction drawings
- Researched relevant case studies and background information, compiled precedent studies
- Produced and organized marketing materials

Research Associate May 2011 - Apr 2012
Clemson University Clemson, SC

- Prepared design graphics and measured drawings
- Researched precedent case studies and contemporary projects
- Assisted with design studio work
- Produced and edited CAD drawings

Intern

RiverLink

Dec 2010 - May 2011

Asheville, NC

- Planned and designed French Broad River Paddle Trail proposal
- Analyzed existing access points and camping areas
- Proposed new infrastructure for access and camping on the river
- Design recreational wayfinding system and site elements for a variety of access points
- Presented findings and work to internal and public audiences

Logistics & Facilities Manager

CMF International

Aug 2003 – Nov 2007

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia

- Managed organization property in Addis Ababa, consisting of business office, workshop and 3 residences
- Supervised 15 member national staff, employee relations, logistics to rural areas, repair and maintenance of facilities and vehicles
- Coordinated in-country operations with expatriate team members
- Served as Project Manager/Builder of rural facility and clinic
- Designed, planned and implemented the construction of housing for expatriate staff in remote location
- Provided resources and logistics for expatriate staff arriving in country
